

$^{283}\text{Rg}$

$^{283}\text{Rg}$  has not been discovered yet. It was only mentioned as a possible decay path by alpha-decay from  $^{287}\text{Nh}$  following electron capture from  $^{287}\text{Fl}$  in a conference proceeding (2017HoZX).

2017HoZX S. Hofmann, S. Heinz, R. Mann, J. Maurer et al., Proc. Inter. Symp. on Exotic Nuclei EXON-2016, Kazan, Russian Federation, September 4-10, 2016, Yu. E. Penionzhkevich Eds. , World Scientific Connect p. 155 (2017).

Please cite this abstract as: “FRIB Nuclear Data Group, Discovery of Nuclides Project, Isotope Database, doi:10.11578/frib/2279152”